

OBTAINING A DEFAULT

Packet #11

These forms must not be used to engage in the unauthorized practice of law. The court is not responsible for (1) actions taken by the users of these forms or (2) their reliance upon the instructions or information provided.

What is a Default?

A default means that the other party did not file a “Response” to the divorce or paternity papers that you “served” within the legal time limit. Therefore, you can ask for a default and a default judgment or decree.

Exactly when can you file?

The other party has 20 days to file a “Response” if the papers were served in Arizona. They have 30 days to respond if they were served outside of Arizona.

When counting, include weekends and holidays.

But if the last day falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday then DO NOT count that day, count the next workday. Check with the Court Clerk to find out if a response was filed.

If you attended the Conciliation Court for counseling services, then you cannot count the time that your divorce was on hold.

What are some other responses you need to look for?

Instead of filing a “Response,” the other party may file other court documents, for example a Motion to Dismiss, or a Motion to Change Venue. If the other party files either of these court documents, then you must file a Response to that document.

If a Response is filed, you are strongly urged to seek the advice of a lawyer. You may not be able to get a Default Decree.

Important Reminders

The symbol (Triangle with an exclamation inside) is a warning.

It could be a warning for you to make sure that something is done.

It could also be a warning that the topic can be confusing, and you may need to talk to an attorney if you need help.

There are lawyers who will help you help yourself. This means that they will only charge you for giving you the help you need, and you can complete the court papers on your own or ask the lawyer for help with your papers.

Family Court Free Legal Clinics

Arizona Superior Court in Pima County has a program through which free assistance is given to anyone representing themselves in a family court, including anyone seeking a default judgment in a divorce or special paternity case.

At the clinic, someone will review your decrees, child support orders, and income- withholding orders to help ensure these documents are complete and legally correct.

Making use of the Clinic is in your best interest. The judge will not sign any documents that are incorrect or incomplete. In such cases, you will have to leave, correct your documents and then schedule another hearing.

For more information, visit www.sc.pima.gov/law-library/free-legal-clinics/ or call the Law Library Resource Center, (520) 724-8456.

After your appointment at the clinic, you can call the Superior Court and schedule your default hearing.

University of Arizona Free Family Court Default Clinic

The University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law offers a free clinic to assist individuals representing themselves who are seeking a default decree or judgment, and who have a Family Court case on file at the Pima County Superior Court. The clinic is staffed by students enrolled in the University of Arizona's Bachelor of Arts in Law program, and is supervised by faculty from the College of Law. To schedule an appointment, or for more information, contact the University of Arizona Free Family Court Default Clinic at law-familydefault@list.arizona.edu or by phone at (520) 344-4958.

What are the basic steps for getting a default decree?

Step 1.

The Countdown

Begin counting the day after the other party is served the divorce papers. You cannot begin step two until after your last counted day.

Step 2.

Complete the Request for Necessary Forms

The request for default is called the Application and Affidavit for Default. The form and instructions are in this packet.

If you are seeking spousal maintenance, you must also complete the Default Information for Spousal Maintenance form included in this packet, and attach it to your Application and Affidavit for Default.

You also need to sign the Notice of Hearing for Default Judgment/Decree.

Step 3.

Copy, sign, and notarize Application for Default Form

Make two copies of your Application and Affidavit for Default and, if necessary, attach the Default Information for Spousal Maintenance form. Do not sign original or the two copies. The Clerk of Court will notarize your original and two copies of Application and Affidavit for Default when you file it.

You will also provide the Notice of Hearing for Default Judgment/Decree which will be provided to the assigned judge.

It is very important to fill out the paperwork completely and correctly. Your hearing will NOT be scheduled, and your Judgment or Decree will NOT be entered, until your paperwork has been properly filled out and submitted.

Step 4. File & Mail

Hand deliver or mail to the Clerk of the Superior Court at:

Attn: Clerk of Court
Pima County Arizona Superior Court
110 West Congress
Tucson, Arizona 85701

If you hand deliver, give the Clerk at the filing counter the original and both copies of the Application and Affidavit for Default. Make sure you get both copies back from the Clerk.

Mail or hand-deliver a copy of the Application and Affidavit for Default to the other party. If you don't know where the other party lives, then send a copy to his/her last known address. You can use the ENTRY OF DEFAULT form in this packet.

If you know the other party is represented by an attorney, you must also mail or hand-deliver a copy to their attorney as well.

Instructions for Completing Application and Affidavit for Default

1. Fill in your name, street address, city, state, ZIP, telephone number in the upper left-hand corner.
2. Clearly print your Superior Court Case Number.
3. Enter your name as the Petitioner.
4. Enter the name of the other party as the Respondent.

Preparing "APPLICATION FOR DEFAULT" Section

Item 2. Service of court papers

Only check one of the two boxes.

- If the other party has signed an "Acceptance of Service" put a check mark in the first box.
- Otherwise put a check mark in the second box.

Item 5. Compliance with Arizona family law

Here you show the court that you will deliver a copy of the application for default form to the other party.

- Put a check mark in all the boxes that are true.

PETITIONER'S CERTIFICATE OF MAILING OR DELIVERY

- Put a check mark in the box that best describes how the form was delivered to the other party
- If you put a check mark in the second box "delivered", then describe in the space provided how and where it was delivered.

Make two copies of your Application and Affidavit for Default. Do not sign original or the two copies. The Clerk of Court will notarize your original and two copies of Application and affidavit for default when you file it.

What to do when it's time for your default hearing?

While going to court for your default hearing may sound scary, it isn't. The Default Hearing is one of the simplest types of hearing. You are basically going to meet with the judge, give the judge your paperwork, answer a few questions and then you're done.

It is very important to fill out the paperwork completely and correctly. Your hearing will NOT be scheduled, and your Judgment or Decree will NOT be entered, until your paperwork has been properly filled out and submitted.

If you have taken all the correct steps like "serving" the proper papers to the other party or other parent, you will usually receive your Judgment or Decree by the end of the hearing.

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING

If you have already had a hearing (for example for temporary orders) and the other party appeared in Superior Court, then the other party must have at least (3) days prior notice before your default hearing.

The other party must know the exact day that you are scheduled to ask for a default judgment or decree.

If you want to assure that your paperwork is completed accurately, be sure to use one of the free legal clinics mentioned above.

If your documents are not correct and complete, you will not get your Judgment or Decree and will have to leave the court, correct your paperwork and schedule another hearing.

It is in your best interest to make sure that your paperwork is correct before you go to your hearing. You can bring the following instructions with you to court to help you.

Check List of things to do for your default hearing

Make 2 Copies of all the paperwork that applies to your case (no double-sided pages please)

These might include:

- Divorce Decree, Special Paternity Judgment, or other Order (See packets #4, #7, or #20)
- Agreement regarding division of community property, if any
- If minor children,
 - Parenting Plan (See Legal Decision-Making and Parenting Time packet)
 - Child Support Worksheet (See Packet #8 Child Support)
 - Child Support Order (See Packet #8 Child Support)
 - Income Withholding Order (See Packet #8 Child Support)
 - Obligor/Obligee Fact Sheet (See Packet #8 Child Support)

Assemble the documents

Attach one copy of everything to both of your copies of the proposed Judgment or Divorce Decree.

You will keep one copy for yourself and send the other copy to the other party.

Attach one copy of everything to the ORIGINAL of the proposed Judgment or Divorce Decree.

This is what you will give the judge at the hearing.

Review your Order, Judgment, or Divorce Decree

Know what your Order, Judgment, or Decree says and what you are requesting.

The judge will ask you some questions about your Order, Judgment, or Decree, such as how you divided the property and debts, why you asked for a particular type of legal decision-making or parenting time, and where the children will be living, etc.

In general, everything that you are asking for in the proposed Order, Judgment, or Decree must be the same as the things you asked for in the Petition. The Petition is the first document you filed.

The only exception to this is if you and the other party have on file with the Court a written agreement with both of your notarized signatures.

Call to check on your paperwork

After submitting your Notice of Hearing and proposed paperwork, the division assigned to your case will begin checking your paperwork. Upon review of your paperwork, the assigned division will either schedule a hearing on your default, or send you paperwork telling you why they could not schedule a hearing. If there is an error in your paperwork you need to correct, you should receive a notice informing you what is wrong. If the hearing was scheduled, you should receive a Notice of Hearing for Default within the same time frame. If you don't receive anything back from the court, you should call your assigned judicial division to follow up on your paperwork.

On the day of your hearing...

Follow the instructions on the Notice of Hearing you received from the Court. If the hearing is scheduled to be by phone, call in to the number provided at the time your hearing is scheduled. If the hearing is scheduled to be in person, then appear in person. If you have any questions or are confused about how to appear for your hearing, reach out to your assigned division.

DO'S & DON'TS

Do dress properly. Wear neat, clean clothing.

Do turn off your cell phones and pagers while you are in the courtroom.

Always refer to the Judge as “Your Honor.”
You may ask the Judge questions, but the Judge cannot give you legal advice.

Be courteous and quiet while you are in the courtroom waiting for your hearing.

DO NOT wear shorts, cut-offs, sleeveless t-shirts, other overly casual or suggestive clothing.

DO NOT bring drinks or food to court and don't chew gum in the Courtroom.

DO NOT bring your children to court. They are not permitted in the Courtroom.

What the Judge will do...

The Judge will look at the proposed Judgment or Decree and other documents you have prepared and make a final decision regarding your case.

If the documents are correct and complete, the Judge will sign the Judgment or Decree and any other documents that are needed. On the next few pages are some questions that the Judge may ask during your hearing after you have been sworn in.

If your hearing is in person, you will need to wait in the Courtroom until all the cases have been heard. Then the Clerk will take you back to the Clerk's office. If the Judge signed your Judgment or Decree, the Clerk will stamp all the copies of your Decree. You must mail one copy of the signed Judgment or Decree to your now former spouse within three days.

General questions that the Judge may ask

What is your name?

How long have you been domiciled (lived) in Arizona?

Were you or your spouse living in Arizona, or were either of you a member of the Armed Forces and stationed in Arizona, for at least 90 days before the Divorce Petition was filed?

Are you or your spouse pregnant?

What was your date of marriage and where were you married?

Do you believe if you went to free marriage counseling you could restore your marriage?

Is your marriage irretrievably broken with no reasonable prospect of reconciliation?

This means that there is no reasonable chance that you and your spouse can continue with your marriage.

Is this a covenant marriage?

A covenant marriage is a special type of marriage in Arizona, and it is different from a normal marriage. If you don't know if you have a covenant marriage, that means you probably don't have a covenant marriage.

Do you want your name restored?

You should answer, "yes," only if you want to return to your maiden or former last name.

Is the relief you are asking for today the same as what you asked for in the Petition of Dissolution or Paternity Judgment?

The answer should be "yes."

Do you think the proposed division of property and debts is fair and equitable?

How did you serve the Petition and other papers on the other party and when was he or she served?

The Judge may ask these questions if you served the other party by publication

What steps did you use to try to find the other party?

Who did you talk to about how to find the other party?

What was the last date you saw the other party, received a letter or phone call?

Additional questions that you might be asked if you have children

Are there any children common to the parties?

How many children do you have from this marriage and what are their ages?

Are the children part of any tribal nation?

Is Arizona the home state of the children?

What type of legal decision-making are you requesting for your minor child(ren)?

What type of parenting time are you requesting for the non-custodial parent?

Do you believe the legal decision making and parenting plan requested are in the best interests of your children?

Are there any orders in any other state or country regarding legal decision making, parenting time, or child support?

Are there any expected problems with parenting time?

Do you think the portions of the proposed Decree/Order dealing with legal decision-making and parenting time are in the best interests of the children?

Who will provide medical/dental insurance for the child(ren)?

Are you or the other parent employed? How much do you both earn?

What are day care costs for the child(ren)?

Who should claim the children as tax exemptions for income tax purposes and in which years?

Is the proposed Child Support according to the Guidelines? If not, why should the Court not follow the guidelines?

Of any children born during the marriage, which are not yours and your spouse's?
