Part 1 - Representing Yourself in Probate Court

The court system is here to provide fair, orderly, and peaceable resolutions of disputes. The court does not take sides, nor does it advocate for an individual person. It is not like court TV. The following information is NOT all you need to know about the law or the rules applicable to your case. It may help you, however, to avoid some of the typical problems people have when they represent themselves in court.

The following is for your convenience. It does not cover all situations. If there is a conflict between the information contained in this document and any court rule, statute, or case law, then you must comply with the court rule, statute, or case law.

WARNING!

Rely on this information at your own risk. If you have questions or concerns about legal issues, consult with an attorney. The court does not appoint attorneys to represent competent persons in probate cases.

1. The Right to Represent Yourself in Court

You have the right to represent yourself in court. The legal term for a person who represents himself or herself is in propria persona or pro se. Such status is frequently referred to as "Pro Per." This right, however, does not permit you to represent the interests of other people in court if you are not an attorney. A power of attorney does not permit you to represent others in court.

You do have the right to hire an attorney to represent you at your own expense. If you choose to represent yourself, you do so at your own risk. It is not the Judge's job to protect you from making mistakes; nor will the Judge give you advice about how to proceed with your case.

2. Court Personnel

A. The Judge and the Judge's staff

Neither the Judge nor the Judge's staff are permitted to answer questions about your case, instruct you on how to proceed, or give you legal advice. Do not call the Judge or the Judge's staff to talk about or tell them about your case.

Basic fairness requires the Judge to give each party a fair opportunity to be heard and to respond to what the other party tells the Judge. You should not contact the Judge or the Judge's staff without the knowledge of the other interested persons. To contact the Judge's office is known as ex parte communication and is prohibited. Neither party to the case should have any contact with the Judge or judicial staff without the other party being present.

You may, however, provide courtesy copies to the Judge of documents you have filed and provided to all of the interested parties to the case. You must indicate when and to whom you have provided copies on the last page of the document, or on a Proof of Notice, if one is required.

B. The Clerk of Court

The Clerk of the Superior Court is the record keeper for the court as well as the collector of all fees, fines, bonds, and restitution. The Clerk's Office is the first stop in initiating any Superior Court action in probate.

NOTE!

The Clerk of Court and her staff are not permitted to answer questions about your case, tell you what to do, or to give you legal advice. Do not call the Clerk of the Court to discuss your case.

C. Court Reporters

Arizona Superior Courts are courts of record except as to some matters heard by Court Commissioners. A court reporter takes down everything that is said in order to make a record of the case. It is extremely important that you speak clearly and slowly. Do not interrupt another person when it is his or her turn to speak because the court reporter can only record one person at a time.

1. How to order a transcript of a hearing

In certain circumstances, you may need to obtain a transcript of a hearing. Transcripts of court hearings, if available, can be ordered directly from the court reporter. After each hearing, the court will issue a Minute Entry. A Minute Entry is the document that records the court's findings and any orders that were entered. It is the official court record of a hearing. If you need to order a transcript of a hearing, look for the court reporter's name on the Minute Entry from that hearing. Call the managing court reporter's office at 740-3114 to obtain the phone number of the court reporter who covered the hearing. Contact the court reporter to request a copy of the transcript. Each court reporter sets his or her own rates per page. Be sure to ask what that charge will be. Preparation of the transcript may take several weeks. The Judge does not control the court reporter's work or the rates charged.

D. The Pima County Probate Registrar

The Pima County Probate Registrar's duties include the following:

1. Review and grant or deny applications for informal appointment of personal representative and applications for informal admission of will to probate.
2. Review affidavit of succession to real property and issue or refuse to issue certified copy of the affidavit for recording.
3. Review appointment of foreign conservator.
4. Review appointment of foreign personal representative and proof of authority bond.
5. Review and grant or deny appointment in subsequent administration.
6. Review and grant or deny applications for endorsement of conservator's letters
7. Review and grant or deny applications for appointment of special administrator.
8. Close cases 1 year after the filing of closing statement.

NOTE!

The Registrar and her staff are not permitted to answer questions about your case, instruct you on how to proceed, or give legal advice

E. The Pima County Probate Counsel

The probate counsel is a lawyer who works for the court and who has expertise in probate law. General questions regarding procedures or referrals to resources may submitted by e-mail to probatecounsel@sc.co.pima.az.us. The Probate Counsel cannot change a hearing date, grant any relief, change a Judge's order, or grant a party additional time to comply with the court's orders.

The Probate Counsel is not required to respond to your e-mail. The Probate Counsel may advise the Probate Judge if your e-mail is inappropriate or offensive. Email communications to anyone at the court are subject to public records disclosure requirements. They are NOT confidential, protected or private.

The Judge may decide that your e-mail and any response from Probate Counsel be made part of the case file and copies may be provided to opposing parties.

NOTE!

The Pima County Probate Counsel is NOT a public attorney and is NOT able to offer legal advice to you concerning your case

3. Probate Law

Probate law is found in statutes, court rules, and case law. Statutes and case law govern the substantive law of probate cases. The Arizona Rules of Court - which include the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure, and the Pima County Local Rules, govern the procedure that all parties who bring a case to court must follow.

A. STATUTES

Arizona adopted a version of the Uniform Probate Code in 1974. Arizona's probate statutes are found in Title 14 (Volume 6) of the Arizona Revised Statutes. (Not all statutes that may be important to your case are found in Title 14.)

B. RULES OF COURT

The rules of court that apply to probate cases in the Arizona Superior Courts are found in Arizona Rules of Court. These rules include the Rules of Civil Procedure and the Pima County Local Rules. The rules apply to all parties including parties who represent themselves. It is not fair to require one party to a case to obey the rules but not require the other parties to follow those same rules. The following rules apply to probate cases:

- i. Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure
- ii. Arizona Rules of Evidence
- iii. Pima County Local Rule 9

C. CASE LAW

The decisions of the appellate courts in Arizona are contained in the Arizona Reports.

D. WHERE TO FIND STATUTES, RULES AND CASE LAW

The statutes are available online at www.azleg.state.az.us. The rules are available online at www.supreme.state.az.us/rules/.

The Local Rules for Probate - Local Rule 9 - are available online (www.sc.co.pima.az.us). The local rules can also be obtained from probate clerk's office, if you go there in person

In addition to online research, the statutes, rules, and case law are available at the following locations:

4. Procedures for Bringing a Case to Court

A. PROCEDURAL DUE PROCESS: FORMAL PROCEEDINGS

What if your opponent sent you notice of an important hearing on the same day it was to occur? You would not be able to prepare your case or summon witnesses on your own behalf. What if you arrived at hearing only to find that the judge had read letters from the other side's witnesses? Would you feel that the judge was prejudiced? Would you feel deprived of the right to cross-examine those witnesses?

Both Federal and Arizona law entitle each person to due process. Each party has the right to sufficient advance notice of hearings. Each hearing must take place before an unbiased judge or commissioner. Each party will have the opportunity to present legally admissible evidence and to have his or her point of view heard.

"Procedural due process" is a collection of procedures which assure each side a fair opportunity to explain his or her case to an impartial judge. In Arizona, procedural due process requires four steps as follows:

1. Petition, complaint, or other pleading

The party who is asking the court's assistance must file a petition, complaint, motion, or other pleading. These are known collectively as "pleadings." Pleadings are your request for relief and should state two things: first, the important facts of the case; and second, the law as it applies to your case.

2. Notice to interested persons

The party must give notice to all interested persons by sending or delivering (or in some cases by publishing in a newspaper) a copy of the petition, complaint, motion, or other pleading and a copy of the notice or order that sets the hearing date. This notice must be given as required by the applicable rule or statute. For example, in many probate matters, notice must be given at least 19 days before the hearing if notice is given by mail. [A.R.S. § 14-1401; Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure 6(e)]. The statutes and rules determine to whom notice must be given and the deadline by which notice must be given. See Section 4(C) for more information about notice.

NOTE!

A party who wishes to object to the petition, complaint, or motion MUST file a written objection at least three days before the scheduled hearing or appear at the hearing with the written objection. If no written objection is filed within the required time, the request will usually be granted without further inquiry by the court.

3. Hearing

A hearing is held. In some hearings, such as trials, each party may produce evidence. In other hearings, such as hearings on motions, no evidence is offered but each party may argue their position on the issue to the court. See Section 5(B) for more information about hearings.

4. Order or Judgment by the court

The Judge decides the case. The decision is the court's order or judgment.

Informal Proceedings

Some probate matters involving decedent's estates (See A.R.S. §14-3301- §14-3311) begin by filing an Application to the Probate Registrar. These matters are known as informal matters. Rather than the formal process of filing a Petition, giving notice, and having a hearing before a Judge, informal proceedings involve the following steps:

1. Application to the Probate Registrar;
2. Statement of Registrar;
3. Notice to interested parties

NOTE!

Guardianship and/or conservatorship cases cannot proceed informally because due process gives the alleged incapacitated person the right to have a hearing.

B. PETITIONS, APPLICATIONS, COMPLAINTS, MOTIONS AND OTHER PLEADINGS

All petitions, applications, complaints, objections, motions, and other pleadings must comply with the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 10(d) and Pima County Local Rule 9.1(d) and (e). They must also conform with the following requirements:

1. Pleadings must be legible and be double-spaced. Typed or computer generated documents are preferred. Handwritten documents are permitted but must be legible
2. Pleadings must contain the following information
 - Name, address, phone number of petitioner or attorney
 - ! Case caption - must include the decedent's or ward's name and his or her date of birth
 - Case number
 - Title of the document
 - ! Name, address, phone number of proposed fiduciary
 - Date signed
 - The signature of the party or the party's attorney

- 3 Any petition requesting the appointment of a guardian, conservator, or personal representative must be accompanied by a copy of the Court's General Order to the Fiduciary. [Pima County Local Probate Rule 9.1(f)(1)].

Information regarding forms is provided in Section 8. Please see also Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 10(d); and Pima County Local Rules, Rule 9.1(d).

WARNING!

Pleadings are serious legal documents. The court may impose substantial sanctions on a party who files improper pleadings with the court. See Rule 11 of the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure.

C. NOTICE TO INTERESTED PERSONS; PROOF OF NOTICE

1. What is Notice?

The Arizona Revised Statutes, Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure, and the Pima County Local Rules require that notice be given to interested persons. A party who files a pleading with the court must give notice. Neither the court nor the clerk of court will do that for you. Notice requires that the other interested persons receive the following:

1. A copy of your pleading, and
2. A copy of the Notice of Hearing, or Order to Show Cause, or other Order setting the hearing date.
3. The Notice of Hearing must include the warning required by Pima County Local Probate Rule 9.1(i)(7)(i).

The general probate notice requirements can be found in A.R.S. §14-1401.

Specific notice requirements for guardianships are in A.R.S. §14-5207.

Specific notice requirements in conservatorships are in A.R.S. §14-5405.

2. Methods for Providing Notice

The type of notice you may be required to give to an interested party will depend on the requirements of the statute. The following is a description of each method.

a. Personal Service

By delivering a copy of the petition and notice of hearing to the person at his or her office or place of residence, if known. If a process server is used, the process server then files an Affidavit of Service with the court and gives a copy to you.

b. Notice by Mail

Mailing a copy of the petition and the notice of hearing to the person being notified. This can be done by certified, registered, or ordinary first class mail; and must be sent to his or her office; place of residence, if known; or post office address.

c. Published Notice

Notice by publication means publishing notice of the date, time, and location of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the hearing is being held. The Notice must be published three times prior to the hearing. The first notice must be at least 14 days prior to the hearing:

NOTE!

Notice may be given by publication only in the following circumstances:

- i. If the address or identity of the person is not known and cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence.
- ii. When notice by publication is required by law.

WARNING!

If you do not give the required notice then any order the court makes will be invalid.

3. Proof of Notice

After giving notice, you must file a Proof of Notice. The Proof of Notice is filed in the court file and is evidence to the court that notice was properly provided. The Proof of Notice must comply with Local Rule 9 and must include the title of the document given, to whom the notice was given, the method by which notice was given, and the date notice was given. The Proof of Notice must be signed by the person who gave the notice.

5. Filing Documents and Obtaining a Hearing

Each new case opened at the Superior Court is assigned a case number. A file is then created into which documents and orders of the court are placed. Parties to a case may file documents in the court file upon the payment of an filing fee. Only original documents are accepted for filing by the Clerk of Court. Court files are kept in the custody of the Clerk of Court and are accessible by the general public. Files cannot be removed from the courthouse.

Documents mailed to or dropped off with the Clerk of Court are simply filed into the court file and will not be set for hearing unless you take the appropriate steps to set the matter for hearing. If you wish to have a hearing regarding the document you are filing, you must request a hearing and provide each interested party with a copy of each document filed. The Judge will not know you have filed a document nor take action on the matter unless you set the matter for hearing on the court calendar.

NOTE!

In order to have a matter decided by the Judge you must have your matter set for hearing. Merely filing a petition will not bring the matter to the attention of the Judge.

A. FILING DOCUMENTS

- File original documents and appropriate filing fee with the Clerk of Court by mailing or delivering to the following address:

Clerk of Court, Probate
110 W. Congress
Tucson, AZ 85701

NOTE!

You must pay a filing fee for each case in which you appear as a party. All checks must be made payable to the Clerk of the Superior Court.

- The Clerk of Court will not accept faxes or photocopies of documents for filing.
- Include a self-addressed stamped envelope and a copy if you wish to have a copy conformed and returned to you. The court will conform one copy of each document at no charge. The term "conform" means the document is time/date-stamped by the Clerk of Court.

B. OBTAINING A HEARING

1. Types of Hearings

There are two types of hearings: appearance hearings, and non-appearance hearings. The Judge will determine which type of hearing will be set. You are not required to be present at "non-appearance" hearings. You are required to be present at all appearance hearings.

2. How to Set a Matter for Hearing?

a. Obtaining a Hearing in Person

Step 1 File your original document(s)

Bring the following documents to the Probate Clerk's desk in the Superior Court:

- i. Original, plus 1 copy of the document you wish to file (petition, motion, etc.)
- ii. Original, plus 2 copies of a Notice of Hearing

The Probate Clerk will file the original document and will give you back a conformed copy.

Step 2 Get a hearing date from the Calendar Clerk

Take the original, plus the 2 extra copies of the Notice of Hearing over to the Calendar Clerk's Office in the Information Desk located on the first floor lobby of the court. The Calendar Clerk will insert a hearing date on your original Notice of Hearing, retain one copy and give the original and the remaining copy back to you.

Step 3 File your original Notice of Hearing

Go back to the Probate Clerk's desk and file the original Notice of Hearing that now has a hearing date filled in by the Calendar Clerk. The Probate Clerk will conform your copy. Now that you have filed your petition and obtained a hearing date, your next step is to provide the proper notice of the hearing to all interested parties.

Step 4 Provide Notice of the Hearing

After you receive your conformed copy of the Notice of Hearing back from the court, you must immediately provide notice of the hearing date, time and location to all interested persons. See Section 3(C) above.

Step 5 File a Proof of Notice

You must provide proof to the court that you gave adequate notice to interested persons. To do so you must file a Proof of Notice that indicates to whom notice was provided, the date notice was given, and by what method notice was given. If you provide notice by publication, your proof of notice is the Affidavit of Publication from the newspaper that indicates the notice and date(s) of publication.

b. Obtaining a Hearing by Mail

Step 1 Mail the documents

Mail the following documents to the Probate Clerk's Office (address below):

- i. Original plus 1 copy of any document you wish to file
- ii. Original plus 2 copies of the Notice of Hearing
- iii. A self-addressed stamped envelope (make sure you have sufficient postage)

Clerk of Court, Probate
 110 West Congress Street
 Tucson, AZ 85701

Step 2 Hearing Date

The court will insert a hearing date on the original Notice of Hearing and mail a conformed copy back to you, using the self-addressed stamped envelope you provided.

Step 3 Provide Notice of the Hearing

After you receive your conformed copy of the Notice of Hearing back from the court, you must immediately provide notice of the hearing date, time, and location to all interested persons and then file a Proof of Notice with the court. See Section 4(C) above.

Step 4 File a Proof of Notice

You must provide proof to the court that you gave adequate notice to interested persons. To do so you must file a Proof of Notice that indicates to whom notice was provided, the date notice was given, and by what method notice was given. If you provide notice by publication, your proof of notice is the Affidavit of Publication from the newspaper that indicates the notice and date(s) of publication.

NOTE!

You cannot initiate a new case by mail. You must come to court to open a new case.

- ⊖ Do not interrupt anyone. Let each person speak as directed by the Judge.

WARNING!

Contempt of Court

A Judge may hold a person in Contempt of Court if he or she refuses (either directly or indirectly) to comply with the court's orders, or if a person behaves in a manner which lessens the dignity of the court. A Judge has the authority to hold a person in contempt of court for improper conduct and such conduct may result in a fine or a jail sentence. If a person fails to obey the orders of the court, the Judge could put that person in jail until such time as he or she does comply.

Part 2 - Guardianships and Conservatorships of Minors

1. What is a Guardian?

A guardian of a minor is a person who is appointed by the court to make decisions about the welfare of a minor. A guardian has the same powers and responsibilities of a custodial parent regarding the minor's support, care, and education. A guardian is not personally liable for the minor's expenses, and is not liable to third persons for acts of the minor. The guardian is responsible, however, for investigating and securing possible sources of income to which the minor may be entitled. Such sources may include, for example, social security benefits, inheritance, survivor benefits, or personal injury settlements. If there are such assets, then a conservator may need to be appointed.

The appointment of a guardian for a minor in probate court is based on either parental consent or the termination (or suspension) of parental rights. Such termination (or suspension) can occur either by "circumstances" or by Court Order. "Circumstances" may include, for example, the death, disappearance, incarceration, military service, serious illness, or incapacity of a parent or parents.

If you seek to become a guardian by consent, you must provide parental consents from both parents if both parents are living. If one parent is deceased, you must provide a consent from the living parent. If a parent will not consent you still must provide them with the required notice (see pages 9 and 32). If you do not know where the parent lives then you must publish notice (see page 33).

If the guardianship is based on consent, and that consent is withdrawn, then the court must terminate the guardianship. When consent is withdrawn, termination of the guardianship will occur without an investigation by the court into whether such termination is in the best interests of the child. If you have concerns about the minor's safety you must call Child Protective Services (1 800 SOS-CHILD) to report the matter.

The probate division of the Superior Court does not have jurisdiction to terminate parental rights of custody. Cases involving allegations of abuse, neglect, or unfit parenting against the minor's parents fall under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. If you are attempting to obtain custody of a child in these circumstances, you must file a Private Dependency Action in the Juvenile Court. An information packet may be picked up at the Juvenile Court (address below).

Juvenile Court Center
2225 E. Ajo Way
Tucson, Arizona 85713-6295

Being appointed guardian is a very serious matter, and guardians are, at all times, under the jurisdiction of the court which appointed them. If you are uncertain about the duties and responsibilities of being a guardian, you should consult with an attorney.

NOTE!

The law requires a criminal background investigation prior to the appointment of a non blood-relative as guardian for a minor. The guardian will not be appointed until the results of the investigation have been forwarded to the Court by the Department of Public Safety. (See page 29 for the Fingerprint Process).

2. What is a Conservator?

A conservator is a person who is appointed by the court to manage and protect the estate and affairs of a minor.

As conservator, you will be required to account for the estate's assets, and you may also be required to post a bond for the value of the estate plus one year's income from that estate. If you are uncertain about the duties and responsibilities of being a conservator, you should consult with an attorney.

Being appointed conservator is a very serious matter, and conservators are, at all times, under the jurisdiction of the court which appointed them. In addition, conservators are accountable - and you may be liable if assets are used improperly - for all assets in the minor's estate over which they have control.

3. What Forms are used in Guardianships and Conservatorships?

A. These forms are used when seeking permanent and (if requested, temporary) appointment as Guardian, Conservator, or Both.

Name of Form	Description
Petition for the Appointment of Guardian, Conservator (or both) of a minor	A request that the court appoint you as guardian (or conservator, or guardian and conservator). It must contain the reasons why a guardian is necessary, and why you, rather than somebody else, should be appointed.
Order appointing Guardian, Conservator (or both) of a minor	The court's order appointing you as guardian (or conservator, or guardian and conservator). If the Judge (or Commissioner) grants your petition he or she will sign the order. The next step is to have the Clerk of Court issue Letters of Guardianship and/or Conservatorship..
Petition for Temporary Appointment of Guardian or Conservator (or both) of a minor	A request that the court appoint you as temporary guardian (or conservator, or guardian and conservator). It must contain the reasons why a guardian or conservator is necessary, and why you, rather than somebody else, should be appointed. It should also state the reasons why an emergency exists. You cannot file for temporary appointment without filing a petition for permanent appointment.

Non blood-relatives who apply to become a guardian of a minor, by law, must be fingerprinted. If you are not a blood relative, and intend to apply for guardianship of a minor, you must follow the steps below:

1. File your Petition for Appointment as Guardian of a Minor, your Notice of Hearing, and all other required documents with the probate clerk.
2. You will need to request a hearing date (on the Petition for Appointment as Guardian of a Minor) at least 60 days from the date you filed your petition. This will give sufficient time for the prints to be processed.
3. You must then go to either the Pima County Sheriff's Office, or the Tucson Police Department (see page 31 for contact information) and have your prints taken. Use only the fingerprint card provided in the packet that you acquired from the court. You should call ahead to check available times for fingerprinting. Bring a state issued photo I.D., the correct fee (the Sheriff's office charges $6, TPD charges $5), and the 9 x 12 envelope (see item #1 in box on page 30).
4. Once taken, the fingerprint card must be placed in the (9 x 12) envelope, sealed, and signed by the officer or deputy who took the prints.
5. The court will then hold a compliance hearing which will be set 10 days from the day you file the petition. You must appear at this hearing. Bring items 1, 2, 3, and 4 listed in the box on page 30. Be sure to fill out the Applicant Fingerprint Card Inventory.
6. The prints will then be sent for processing. The prints and results will be returned to the court where the judge will review them before the guardianship hearing.

5. The Fingerprint Process

Items you will need before starting the fingerprint process

You will need the following items:

1. One 9 x 12 envelope.
2. One 10 x 13 envelope. This envelope is to be addressed to the Department of Public Safety, return addressed to the probate clerk and must have $0.72 of postage. See page # for addresses.
3. A cashier's check or money order for $29.00 for each applicant made payable to the Arizona Department of Public Safety.
4. A fingerprint packet (which you must pick up from the probate clerk's office) which contains the following:
 - a. A copy of this leaflet;
 - b. A blank fingerprint card;
 - c. An Applicant Fingerprint Card Inventory sheet (and instructions).
5. The $5 or $6 fee for the fingerprinting.

Q: Who are blood relatives?

A: A blood relative is any of the following: birth parent, adoptive parent, sibling (i.e. brother or sister with at least one parent in common), grandparent, great-grandparent, aunt, or uncle (if he or she shares a common parent with either of the minor's parents).

Q: Who are not blood relatives?

A: Any relative that is not listed above including the following: step-parent, step-sibling, spouse of uncle or aunt.

Q: What if I forget to get the prints taken and then show up at the hearing?

A: In almost all cases, your petition will be dismissed.

Q: I am a grandfather who wishes to petition the court for guardianship of my daughter's natural child. I adopted my daughter when she was a minor. Am I considered a blood relative?

A: A relative through adoption has exactly the same relationship as a blood relative. Therefore you are considered the natural grandparent, and you are considered a blood relative.

Q: How long does it take to get the prints back from D.P.S.?

A: The print results and background check should be completed within 60 days.

Q: What should I do if an emergency situation arises while I am waiting for the fingerprint results to come back from D.P.S.?

A: You can call the court and request an emergency hearing. Please note that if the emergency involves allegations of child abuse or neglect you must report this matter to Child Protective Services (1 800 SOS-CHILD). In some circumstances it may be more appropriate to file a Private Dependency Action with the Juvenile Court (an information packet is available from the Juvenile Court).

Q: What if I tamper with the printcard or substitute somebody else's prints for my own prints?

A: You could be held in contempt of court. If you testify in court that the the falsified prints are your own, you could be prosecuted for Perjury. Perjury is a felony with a maximum term of four years in prison for a person with no prior felony convictions.

6. Giving Notice in Guardianship and Conservatorship Cases

A. Giving Notice

If you apply to the court to become guardian or conservator for a minor, you must give notice of the hearing, date, time and location must be given as required by law (see A.R.S. §14-5207) to the following persons:

1. The minor child* if the child is over 14, and
2. Any living parent of the minor,
3. Any person who is serving as guardian or conservator or who has the care and custody of the minor during the sixty days preceding the date of the petition.

B. Waiver of Notice

The following persons may waive notice of the hearing:

1. A minor over age 14 may only waive notice if they attend the hearing
2. A parent may waive notice
3. A competent adult may waive notice

NOTE!

The notice must be either mailed or delivered at least 19 days prior to the hearing.

C. Consent by Parents and Waiver of Notice

You may have both parents and the minor (if the minor is 14 or older) sign a Consent and Waiver form rather than mailing papers to them. When a parent withdraws consent, the guardianship must terminate. Probate Court does not have authority to terminate parental rights to custody of a minor child. If you object to the termination of the guardianship, you may have to file a Dependency Petition in Juvenile Court (see page 20).

* Notice must be by personal service at least 14 days prior to the hearing (see page 10).

D. Notice by Publication

If you do not know where either or both parents live, you must publish notice of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the hearing is to be held. You must publish notice of the hearing even if you do not know the identity of either the mother or father. Paternity or maternity need not have been established. Prior to publishing notice, you must make a serious attempt to locate the parents. You should check the telephone books and contact friends and/or relatives of the parents. When you go to court, the judge will ask you what efforts you made to locate the parents and if you have given them notice by publication.

If you provide notice to someone by publication, the Notice of Hearing must be published three times. The date of the first publication must be at least 14 days before the hearing. The cost of publication is approximately $66.00 but this may be subject to change. The newspaper will send you an Affidavit of Publication. This will be your proof to the Court that you published notice correctly. Bring the Affidavit of Publication with you to the hearing. The address of a newspaper in Pima County that is most often used for publication of notice is:

The Daily Territorial
P.O. Box 27087
Tucson, AZ 85726

E. Proof of Notice

Prepare and file a Proof of Notice with the Probate Clerk at least two weeks before the hearing. If the minor and both parents have signed consent and waiver forms, then you do not need a Proof of Notice. Bring extra 2 copies of all of your paperwork with you to the hearing.

9. Additional Steps for Conservators:

1. Additional Steps for Conservators

2. Bonds, Restricted Accounts, and Restrictions on the Sale of Real Estate

A. What is a bond?

A bond is a type of insurance policy required by law to protect the minor's estate from any losses caused by the conservator's failure to perform properly his or her duties.

B. What bond is required in a Conservatorship?

1. General Rule:

A bond is required for the value of the assets plus one year=s income. See A.R.S. §14-3603.

2. Exceptions

The amount of the bond may be reduced by the value of the following:

- Real estate if it cannot be sold or leased for more than one year without court order.
- funds placed in a federally insured account with restrictions on the withdrawal of funds from the account.

a. How to find a bonding company

Yellow Pages of Telephone Book: Bonds - Surety and Fidelity.

b. Approximate Cost of a bond

Bond premiums vary, depending on the value of the estate. The cost of the bond is a permissible charge against the estate.

Safeguarding the Estate

Bond.

A.R.S. §14-3603, 3604, 3606. Must be for value of all unrestricted assets (plus one year's income).

Restrictions on the sale of real estate

Sale or lease for more than one year only by order of the court.

Restricted bank accounts

Withdrawals permitted only by order of the court.

c. Restricted Accounts

In order to permit the bond to be reduced by the amount of such account, the account must be with a federally insured bank, savings and loan or credit union in Arizona.

The bank, savings and loan or credit union must sign a Proof of Restricted Account. You then must file the Proof of Restricted Account with the court. No withdrawals -of either principal or income - will be permitted unless you obtain a court order, authorizing the withdrawal. To obtain an order permitting withdrawal you must petition the court, set a hearing date, give notice to all interested persons. You must then appear at the hearing to explain why the withdrawal should be authorized.

d. Restrictions on the sale of real estate.

In order to permit the bond to be reduced by the value of any real estate, the court must restrict the Letters of Appointment and the Order appointing the conservator by adding the following language:

AReal estate may not be sold or leased for a period in excess of one year without order of the court.≡

3. Personal Injury Settlements for Minors

If you seek to become conservator for a minor in order to pursue or settle a personal injury action on behalf of the minor, you should keep in mind the following points.

A parent does not have authority to settle a minor's claim until they are appointed conservator and obtain authorization from court to settle claim on behalf of the minor.

You should consult with an attorney if you have any doubts regarding the reasonableness of the settlement. For example, will the proposed settlement be sufficient to cover existing or future medical expenses which occurred or will occur because of the injury.

Once a conservatorship is established funds are generally not available until the minor reaches 18. If the settlement involves a substantial amount of money, you should consider the advice of a financial advisor.

Lastly, when dealing with an insurance company's attorney, remember that the insurance company's attorney does not represent you, though he or she may have petitioned the court for your appointment as conservator.

4. Investing the minor's assets

As conservator you have a duty of observe the standard in dealing with the assets of another that would be observed by a prudent person dealing with the assets of another, and if the conservator has special skills or is named as conservator on the basis of representations of special skills or expertise, he or she is under a duty to use those skills.

10. Your Ongoing Duties as Guardian and/or Conservator

A. Conservators

1. Inventory

You will be required to file an inventory no later than 90 days after your appointment. An inventory is a list of all assets in the conservatorship estate. Assets include real and personal property, bank accounts, business interests, and claims or causes of action that the minor may have.

2. Accountings:

You will be required to file an annual accounting of all income and expenditure from the estate, unless the court specifically orders otherwise. Accounting forms may be available from the sources listed on page 18.

If transfer of all the assets in the estate is restricted, and the court finds that no bond is required, then the court may waive the requirement to file an annual accounting. A final accounting will be required, however, when the conservatorship is terminated.

The court will set a date on which the annual accounting year end. This will be on one of four possible dates: March 31, June 30, September 30 or December 31. The court will also set a date when the court will have a hearing to review the annual accounting. You must file the accounting no less than 21 days before the hearing.

The dates will be as follows:

Annual Accounting Year End	Due date for filing annual accounting	Hearing to review Annual Accounting
March 31	June 10	June 30
June 30	September 10	September 30
September 30	December 11	December 31
December 31	March 11	March 31

After your initial appointment you will receive notification of the above dates from the court. On the annual accounting year end you should begin work on the accounting, you will have about 70 days to complete the accounting. You must petition the court to approve the accounting by filing the appropriate petition with the court (see page 26). You also must provide notice of the hearing (see pages 9 and 32) to all interested parties. You must also prepare an Order Approving Annual Accounting, take it to the probate clerk, and ask the clerk to lodge the order in the court file.

NOTE!

If the hearing date for review of the accounting falls on a weekend or holiday then the court will set the hearing for the next business day the courts are open.

The court will also set a final accounting hearing date for the final accounting. It will be set approximately 90 days after the end of the month in which the minor turns 18. The minor may waive the final accounting after the minor turns 18 BUT the minor must still file a receipt for all of the assets of the conservatorship.

3. Use of the minor's assets

The conservator is not permitted to use the minor's assets except as the court permits. The assets can not be used to pay for the minors housing, food, clothing, education expenses, or entertainment without an order from the court permitting such.

WARNING!

The conservator may be liable for any improper use of the minor's conservatorship assets.

4. Address Changes.

You must immediately advise the Court in writing of any change of address within 30 days of the move. If you move out of state with the minor, you must file a new guardianship petition in that state. After your appointment in the new state, you must petition to terminate the Arizona conservatorship. If you move to a different county in Arizona, you can file a motion to change venue in the Superior Court in Pima County to change the venue to the new County. After the Court approves your final accounting as conservator, you must then file a Petition for Final Discharge of Conservator for a Minor, set it for hearing and provide proper notice.

If assets were held in restricted accounts, when the minor reaches the age of 18, you must file a Petition for Termination of Conservatorship, Release of Restricted Funds, and Discharge of Conservator, set it for hearing and provide proper notice.

If the minor waives a final accounting and consents to the final discharge of conservator, file the minor's waiver and consent form to avoid the necessity of a hearing. Upon filing a Receipt of Restricted Funds by Former Minor, the court will sign an Order of Final Discharge of Conservator.

6. Conservator's Fees

Reasonable conservator's fees are a legitimate conservatorship expense, and may be charged against the minor's estate. Such fees must be approved by the court. If you are not related to the minor, you must be a licensed private fiduciary to charge conservator's fees. Information about becoming a licensed private fiduciary may be obtained from the Arizona Supreme Court Certification and Licensing department at <http://www.supreme.state.az.us/fiduc/>

B. Guardians

1. Terminating the Guardianship

When the child turns age 18, the guardianship terminates automatically.

2. Withdrawal of Parental Consent

When a parent withdraws consent, the guardianship must terminate. Probate Court does not have authority to terminate parental rights to custody of a minor child. If you object to the termination of the guardianship, you might have to file a Dependency Petition in Juvenile Court..

3. Address Changes.

You MUST immediately advise the Court in writing of any change of address within 30 days of the move. If you move out of state with the minor, you must file a new guardianship petition in that state. After your appointment in the new state, you must petition to terminate the Arizona guardianship. If you move to a different county in Arizona, you must file a motion to change venue in the Superior Court in Pima County to change the venue to the new County.
